

About The Funeral Lady

I am Brenda Schultz, The Funeral Lady. After losing my Mom to breast cancer at the young age of 66, I realized the importance of pre-planning. It made it much easier on my family dealing with our loss. We were able to focus our thoughts on her legacy. I learned a lot about my Mom the day of her funeral. We didn't talk as a family about her arrangements before hand. She did the pre-arranging, knowing how difficult it would be to make those decisions in our grief. The ease of going through the process to celebrate and say our final goodbyes was made noticeable easier knowing her wishes. After that, I knew I wanted to help educate other families on pre-arranging ahead of time to ease their sadness. In helping families talk about and plan their wishes, I have seen reduced stress and grateful families preparing their goodbyes.

Why do Caring People Pre-Arrange?

How many things have you insured against in your lifetime? Oddly enough, all the things we insure against may never happen. Auto insurance, home insurance, medical insurance. But, when one talks about final arrangements, the only certainty in life, no one thinks to insure the inevitable. It only makes sense, for so many reasons.

The Benefits of Pre-Arranging

- It takes the burden off your loved ones.
- It allows you to put your thoughts in writing.
- You can select every aspect of your funeral now so as to alleviate your family to guess what you want.
- Provide peace of mind, knowing you are not making anyone responsible for your last wishes.
- Customize your plan and take advantage of the benefits of pre-paying.
- You plan together, not alone.
- Helps prevent emotional overspending.

The Funeral Lady

will fill out a FREE Funeral Planning Guide with you.

Planning your own funeral can provide peace of mind to you and your family. When you plan in advance, you are letting your loved ones know exactly what your wishes. This will ease the burden of decision making on those left behind. In addition, when a Planning Guide is created, you will be providing important information for those that will need it.
